“ David you are the Love of my life and my best friend. It was 9 years ago today that you left this earth to go home. I miss you like crazy and so does your daughter. We haven't seen you around lately. I miss all the movement I have seen out of the corner of my eyes letting me know that you haven't lost your sense of humor. I will forever love you and keep you in my heart. Until we meet again my sweet.

“ *OBITUARY: DAVID HUGH CHISHOLM was born to Edward Duncan and Shirley Marion (Greene) Chisholm in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada on December 29, 1956, the youngest of four children. He was a direct descendant of the Chief of Clan Chisholm. As a child, he was sweet and vulnerable, and even though he might have had three strikes against him, he persevered and married a good woman, Patricia Goggins, who stayed with him through thick and thin in the most important years of their life together. They created and raised a loving, family-oriented daughter, Traycee Lynn Chisholm Moreno. His greatest accomplishment was being a father and becoming a grandfather, when all the odds were against him. He loved to tinker around and though eccentric in many ways, he found resourceful solutions to solve mechanical problems, which often made people laugh, He had to work hard to succeed on so many levels, but he did. Proof of that are his family of descendants. He was a kind and loving father who really seemed to have no comprehension of the finer niceties of life, but was basically gentle in spirit and understood at an elemental level how important family is. Proof of that are his little family of descendants. God bless him for that. He is survived by Patricia, Traycee Lyn, and his two granddaughters Khloe and Kyleigh, many friends and extended family, a sister Penny, as well as cousins in Nova Scotia, Roxanne, Courtney, and Susan (Greene), their children: Matthew, Jason, Angela, Candace; Aunt Nancy Greene; and nephews: Ian Grove, and Jason and Brendan Chisholm. He was predeceased by his older brother and sister Peter Ian Chisholm and Janet Alayne Chisholm, his mother and father, and his uncle Courtney Greene. Deagh an siosalach.
