“ I was a KMOX Big Red Line cheerleader when Ray was a linebacker, #55 for the Cardinals. We dated for 3 years and HE was the love of MY LIFE at that time. I only found out 2 days ago that he had passed away, as did Nancy. I'm heartbroken, for his family and for me too. He was such a good friend. While looking at the slide show, there is a picture of Ray in a plaid flannel shirt, holding a candle That was taken at my parents. I made that candle for him and the shirt was a gift. Haven't seen that photo for 45+ years but it brought back so many wonderful memories. Can't believe it is still around He was such a good guitar player and singer. I hope he kept it up during the rest of his life. Our lives went different directions in our late 20's. I met and married a fireman in san diego and we have 3 adult children. Through the years, I know he was a pilot and my sister in law was a nurse on the flights they would take for medical evacuations. I never knew where his life took him after that. I'm so happy he found his Nancy and they had some good years together. I didn't see in his obituary that he ever had any children. Ray will forever hold a special place in my heart. My sincere condolences to his family and friends.

Ray was a character and very loving boyfriend to Nancy. I was fortunate to know him through Nancy playing golf and hitting the beach. Rest in Peace Ray you're now with your love. Brenda Chilvers

Ray was a great friend and a very fun person. I met Ray in late 1974 or early 1975 while playing basketball at the Pacific Beach Recreation Center. This is when he was in NFL Shape. He set a pick on me, and it was like I hit a brick wall. We became friends, playing basketball at least four to five days a week. We also played racquetball at Mel Gorham's. Ray finally had to retire from Football (St. Louis) after a knee injury in 1976. In the early 1980s, we studied Tang Soo Do (Karate) at Kenyon's Karate. He was a physical force and a tremendous athlete. He worked with me bartending at T.D. Hays/Bender's Sidewalk Cafe before he started his flying career. I left San Diego in late 1986. We continued our friendship and talked a couple of times a year. I know he loved Nancy and was a great caregiver to her. In 1981, we were on a trip together, visiting my family in Washington, D.C. At the Smithsonian Museum that week, we ran into a friend from La Jolla who was the Site Director for one of the Inaugural Balls that week for Ronald Reagan's Inauguration. He asked us if we could work on his staff (volunteer) for the rest of the week and the inauguration. We did, and it was a memorable experience we shared together. Condolences to Ray's Family and Friends. He was a one-of-a-kind man with a good heart. May you Fly High and Rest In Peace, Captain White!

I was working my way through university at Bully's East when I first met Ray. He had just arrived in San Diego to play football with the Chargers. I will always remember him as he brought us great joy.
