“ Sherry was truly a gift from God. We had many parallels in our lives. We both began Government careers working for DOD, then moved on to HHS/SSA Hearing and Appeals, then to USAO, where we met in 1988. We both had a love for tennis and skiing. We did several ski trips together -- she proved to be the better athlete -- never fell on the ski slopes -- until I ran into her once. OOPs. Cleaning my clock on the tennis courts. But, it was all fun. She invited me to take a flight with her on a B-24, a replica of the plane her dad, Col. Vance, flew in WWII. That was an experience I will always remember. We traveled together and made many fond memories. I guess because we were both blonds, I frequently was called "Sherry" as I would be walking down the hall at work (even after she retired). Since she was a lovely lady, I did not really mind. She will be greatly missed.

Love, Karen

“ Sherry,

Though your smile is gone forever, and your hand I cannot touch. Still I have so many wonderful memories of my friend I loved so much. Your memory is my keepsake with which I will never part. You were always so helpful to me when I first was learning to play tennis 13 years ago. You always laughed with me not at me when I sailed the tennis ball over the fence. You always were so funny in the courts that it didn't matter if we won because we had so much fun together. Loved going to tennis because your smile always lifted me up.

*God has you in his keeping, but you are forever in my heart!
Until we meet again,
Love Judy*

“ I first met Sherry when I first learned how to play tennis five years ago. We were partnered together many times and she never complained about being stuck with the "newbie". She was always gracious and encouraging to me. I can only hope to spread that attitude forward. We had lots of laughs on the court because Sherry was always so positive and spreading joy with all. Thank you, Sherry, for being you!

“ Sherry, it was a pleasure to become friends through my sister, Shaun Alcorn and during travels together! The earliest trip I recall, my daughter Heather and I joined you, Shaun and a couple other girlfriends to spend a week in Vegas. Our tour to the Grand Canyon West included the Hoover Dam and Lake Mead, lunch by the Hualapai tribe, plenty of sightseeing, and our walk on the amazing glass Skywalk over the Canyon, just one month after this sight opened to the public! Upon arriving to find closed doors the biggest night of our stay, we refused to let the cancellation of Celine Dion's concert dampen our spirits. I always marveled at how natural it was for you to have fun, regardless of the setting! Your joy for life was infectious! Even when you were dealt the diagnosis of cancer, you met each new day with the same fighting spirit you'd lived your life. I hope I conveyed how much I admired that attribute the last time I was able to come visit San Diego. You may rest now, Sherry, you are loved and you will be dearly missed by so many.

“ Sherry, I did not get to know you well. You were a beloved friend of my sister, Shaun Alcorn, so I first met you on one of my treks to San Diego as her tennis-lovin’ friend, then got to see photos of fun times you enjoyed with her and other friends, and even our other sister, Joyce, and my niece, Heather. Through the last few years, I was honored, along with my daughter, Jessica, with being able to visit you and Jim as he fought his last battles with ALS. And more visits with you and Bob as you fought pancreatic cancer. Through it all, your indomitable spirit shown bright, and your crazy antics lightened the hearts of those around you with laughter. Sleep well, Sherry. We will meet again someday.

“ My time spent with Sherry was on the tennis courts together. She was always a well dressed tennis gal with the newest racket and shoes. Her laugh was contagious and her witty comments were the best. I played with Sherry when her daughter became sick and also when hospice was there for her dear husband. We shared a passion of tennis and had so many battles and victories on the courts. Sometimes we would play over 3 hours never wanting to give up. I was fortunate to be included in birthdays and visits when she battled her cancer. Sherry was a fighter both on and off the court. She was so blessed to have her wonderful boyfriend Bob by her side as well as her life long friends and grandson. She is our Angel forever. Love you Sherry, Dawn Sacco

“ A small service will be held at Ft. Rosecrans National Cemetery on Thursday, February 21 at 10:30 am, to join some of Sherry's ashes with Jim. In lieu of flowers, Sherry asked for donations to either the Humane Society, St. Jude's or Shriner's.

Rest in peace sweet friend. You've earned your Angel wings.

I will always remember our great times in Cabo, Cancun, Palm Springs, Enid, OK and Las Vegas. And movies and dinners at the beach and The Outback. Your fun, crazy and sometimes "dark" sense of humor always kept us guessing at what might come out of your mouth next, lol! Your brave and long fight against pancreatic cancer was inspirational to all of us who witnessed it over the past almost four years. You were a favorite of the doctors and nurses in the chemo lab...there's a reason you were one of Dr. Segal's "miracle" patients. You never gave up. You will be missed, and never forgotten. Love you sister girl. 💕💕
